The June meeting of the BDBR (#JuntaBanrep) started today at 8:30 a.m. This is their ninth meeting this year.

Monetary policy decisions will be made at today's meeting.

Until August, the benchmark interest rate completed 16 months unaltered at 4.25%. The last time this rate was lowered was on 30 April 2018.

What decisions will be taken today, Monday 23 September? Find out after 1:00 p.m. by watching our livestream transmission. Through this channel, citizens, analysts and/or journalists can deliver their questions to the Governor of the Central Bank, Juan José Echavarría, and to the Minister of Finance, Alberto Carrasquilla, who will respond in real time.

Similarly, a press release reporting on today's decisions will be published once the meeting is over.
