

Clarification about false information published in an economic

Clarification about false information published in an economic

Regarding a recent opinion piece published in an economic journal of national circulation, Banco de la República hereby informs that the $100 thousand-peso banknote continues to be valid as the species of highest denomination currently in circulation with unlimited legal tender.