Banco de la República Seeks Young Talent for College Internships

Banco de la República Seeks Young Talent for College Internships
Banco de la República invites students from Medellín, Cali, Bucaramanga, Ibagué, Quibdó, Santa Marta and Bogotá who are interested in a college internship at the Bank to apply before March 8.

Candidates are required to have successfully completed 70% of the syllabus for a major in economics, statistics, mathematics, business administration, architecture, information sciences, social communication (journalism), accounting, sociology, law, social work or engineering (industrial, mechanical and mechatronics).

Those interested in applying must submit a document or statement from the university certifying:

- Curriculum (previously mentioned).
- Percentage of classes completed for the student's college major
- Accumulated grade point average for the student's college major
- Permission from the university to do a full-time internship in the second half of 2021.

Apply here and leave your mark on the country by becoming part of one of the institutions Colombians most like and admire for its transparency, independence and commitment to equality and inclusion.

This is a unique learning opportunity that ratifies Banco de la República's commitment to the nation's growth and development.

Fuente: https://www.banrep.gov.co/en/banco-republica-seeks-young-talent-college-internships