San Andrés, I semestre de 2004 (inglés)

Informe I semestre de 2004 AUTHOR OR EDITOR Emilia Hernández, Elvira Ortiz, Edna M. Valle
The report on Regional Economic Conditions analyzes the main regional social and economic indicators, which allow guilds, public entities, and economic researchers in general, to know the evolution of different socio-economic phenomena, in a clear and truthful manner, through half-yearly statistical data, guaranteeing updated information.

From DANE’s and Banco de la Republica’s viewpoint, it is highly important to submit this document to the economic community of our country, in order to provide a means for supporting territorial planning, assessment and decision making.

The Regional Editorial Committee acknowledges the effort and cooperation supplied by regional entities such as DIAN, the Chamber of Commerce of San Andres, Civil Aeronautics Authorities, The San Andres Governor’s Office, the banking sector, Port Authorities, Archipelago’s Power & Light, Telecom, National Police and other entities which provided information and made possible to achieve the goal of publishing this relevant statistical document in a timely, appropriate and reliable manner, available for user consultation.

The authors are fully responsible for all opinions and any possible errors expressed herein, keeping the Banco de la Republica and its Board of Directors free and clear from any responsibility.

Fuente: https://www.banrep.gov.co/en/node/9815